Congratulations to the Seahorse class who achieved 96.6% attendance last week!

The Big Bird Watch

Children in Nursery and Reception have taken part in the 'big bird watch' this week which involved lots of bird themed activities including making bird feeders and bird watching.

Year 1 Dinosaur Topic

As part of Year 1 topic on Dinosaurs children will take part in a workshop next Thursday with Meet Pete the Dinosaur. Pete the Dinosaur is a walk about animatronic realistic Tyrannosaurus Rex who has a big heart and lots of teeth! This will be an exciting workshop using a professional and friendly animatronic dinosaur. Pete the dinosaur has performed at many events, been on TV and even starred in a Tesco advert. On Friday 8th February parents are invited into school to join their child in a phonics and literacy Dinosaur Workshop at 1.45pm.

E-Safety

Next Tuesday is Safer Internet Day. The children will be listening to e-safety story books, completing activities that focus on the choices we make when online and how we ask, give and receive consent. They will talk about how it is important that we ask an adult before using new apps, games or giving our consent. Our e-Cadets will be helping their classes with this important work. Look out for updates on Twitter! Further details can be found on our website under pupils and e-safety.

Celebration Assemblies

Reception will be having their celebration assembly on Friday 8th February and on Friday 15th February will be Year 1 assembly.

Colder Weather

May we remind parents to ensure that little ones are wrapped up nice and warm during this cold spell. Hats, scarves and gloves should be clearly marked with your child's name to enable lost items to be returned.

Nursery

It's lovely to see the new children who started in January settle in well. They are enjoying the topic on arctic animals and winter by exploring frost, ice and icy colours. They are taking it in turns taking the Nursery penguin home as part of this topic and feeding back via Tapestry.

Just a reminder that parents are invited into Nursery on Thursday 14th February to join their child in an array of board games activities. Attendance slips should be completed and returned to Nursery please.

Just a reminder that £5 baking money is due!
